From Cuba—Landing of Chilians—Fighting Begun.
KEY WEST, FLA, July 10—The bark Cleo is ordered here in her way to Mobile having left Havana early on Sunday morning, July 8th The captain says that four Chilian steamers effected a landing of their troops early on the morning of the 22d and immediately joined the camp of insurgents near Neuvitas In the camps were now 10 000 troops, which, with arms were many of the wealthiest planters in the island, who are over there planning a break with Spain all will be lost They conquered the natives, of determination to throw off the yoke of Spain After joining forces they all marched to within fifty miles of Havana or Cardifed It is thought a battle will take place in a few days On the morning of the 7th a skirmish took place between the outposts of the insurgents and the cavalry force of the Spanish Captain General in which several were wounded on both sides and three Spaniards were killed The utmost excitement prevailed throughout the island, and the planters are resolved to free themselves from Spain

Just as the Cleo left there was a report that the Spanish Governor's private Secretary had been assassinated in Havana

By Overland Telegraph.
[DESPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]
DATES TO JULY 10.
[Congressional.
WASHINGTON July 10—The Senate passed a bill providing that vacancies in the Supreme Court shall be filled until the number of Associate Justices shall be reduced six and providing for the necessary changes in the circuits
Stewart of Nevada submitted a resolution requesting the President to interpose for the release of Fabel prisoners in Canada and elsewhere Laid over till to-morrow
The Senate debated a bill to repeal an act extending Alexandria to Virginia and postponed it till to-morrow
Conness of California introduced a bill to equalize duties in California and moved reference to all except that of the House committee which motion prevailed
Howard of Michigan called up a joint resolution giving the right of way to the Union Pacific Railroad and its branches through military reservations, which was, on motion of Grimes of Iowa referred to the Military Committee
The Senate after an executive session, adjourned
The House took up the tariff bill and Wentworth of Illinois spoke in favor of protection but not by a prohibitory tariff bill
Morrill of Vermont, spoke one hour defending the bill generally and claiming that the objectionable points could be remedied in the Senate, and at all events that Congress could not, and he believed would not, sell out a tariff bill passed, even if it had to sit till December
A moderate increase of the duty on iron would have been the wisest course to adopt, but those to whom prudence and judgment he had to look for thought differently, and he trusted they would now stand by their opinion
Wentworth of Illinois said he had not expected Congress would be called on to increase the tariff on Cotton and wool, and had hoped for a reduction upon many articles of the general tariff, particularly upon those of Canada, in order that, any increase for revenue like would be of permanency except to a very limited amount, as all the unexpended balance would be out of the Secretary of the Treasury in succession, and what power he had had changed the whole aspect of financial affairs The rates proposed in the bill were not however nearly so high as those proposed by the revenue commissioner for the year That commissioner proposed 24 cents per pound on wool in a while the bill reported 12½ cents, while the bill reported 6¼ cents per pound on hair a while the bill reported 12½ cents, while the bill reported 2½, 3 cents on chains less than a quarter of an inch in diameter while the bill reported 5 cents 8 cents on galvanized iron while the bill reported 4½ cents on iron He had to dismiss the House would fix the duty on railroad iron satisfactorily There is no time to present a new bill if this be rejected He believed the Senate would speedily remove the objections from this bill
Delano of Ohio said that with all the imperfections he thought the bill ought to be passed It was the first tariff bill that approached anything like just protection to American agricultural interests He hoped the representatives of New England would stand by it and not turn the evil adrift, as they seemed to do some indications of their doing
Boutwell of Massachusetts intimated that if there was any difficulty in New England on the subject of the tariff, it was not because New England's interests were not considered sufficiently protected, but because a bitter sectional feeling had been waged against New England in other sections of the country in regard to protection and New England did not wish to be held responsible for this bill
Bowen of Massachusetts, advocated the bill but did not want the responsibility shifted from the shoulders of the people of the west, who had more interest in it than New England ever had in any bill New England was content with things as they were, and did not want it understood that she was framing this tariff on the country
Hooper of Massachusetts, said he should vote for the bill, but denied that it was a New England measure and further disclaimed such high rates of duty as this bill proposed, except as a temporary measure.
Kasson of Iowa, opposed the bill, and said that it protected the people so much that they would not be able to do any business under it It was an attempt to balance the good done to the wool interests by ten fold injury to the people to be benefited
Wilson of Iowa, commented on the positions that New England had in relation to the bill which he interpreted to mean that they were lobbying for western votes It was a singular and humiliating spectacle, and he repudiated it.
Wilson of Iowa, announced that he should move to recommit the tariff bill with instructions to report the following portions of the pending measure, viz The first section relating to wool the sixth section in reference to figures and cigars, the twelfth section, which protects agricultural interests, with the amendments heretofore adopted in committee of the whole reducing the duty on coffee and teas one half, reducing the duty on railroad iron from 1 cent per pound to 70 cents per 100 lbs., and embracing that portion of the pending bill relating to linseed, flax seed, hemp seed, rape seed, and oils, and the 31 making duties to be not higher than 25 per cent In any case over that named in the law. He hoped the western members would sustain him in this motion
Dodge of New York, said he was in favor of postponing the bill till December, because those exigencies of the country did not now require it, but if it must come to a vote, he should support it, protesting against certain parts
The debate being closed, Morrill of Vermont moved to fill the blank in the section having action with the word three (3), so as to make the duty on cotton, raw or manufactured, three cents; agreed to. Wilson of Iowa moved to reduce the duty on railway iron from one cent per pound to seventy-five cents per hundred pounds.
Price of Iowa moved to reduce duty on salt in packages from forty-two to twenty six cents, in bulk, from thirty to twenty-four cents per hundred pounds.
Three amendments having been offered, the previous question was moved and seconded on all the pending amendments, thus preventing all others from being offered. Separate votes were taken on the amendments reported from the committee of the whole, as follows: for increasing the duty on pig iron from nine to ten dollars per ton—disagreed to without a division for striking out cents from the articles on which a duty of sixty cents a yard is fixed and substituting thirty per cent.—agreed to. The amendment to strike out the discrimination made in favor of coal from the British Provinces agreed to, so that all the imported coal is to pay $1 00 per ton. The vote stood 73 to 72. All the amendments increasing duty on agricultural productions were agreed to The duty on lumber, $2 per 1000 feet, was agreed to. An amendment reducing the duty on tea to 12½ cents per pound was agreed to—ayes, 93 noes, not counted An amendment reducing the duty on coffee to 2½ cents per pound was agreed to without a division All the other amendments reported by the committee of the whole were considered and agreed to The next question was on the amendment offered by Kerpihar to reduce the duty on railroad iron from one cent per pound to fifty cents per hundred pounds—disagreed to, 67 to 69. The amendment offered by Wilson of Iowa to reduce the duty on railroad iron to 70 cents per hundred pounds was agreed to by 108 to 41 The amendment of Price of Iowa, to reduce the duty on salt in packages to 36 cents, and in bulk to 24 cents per hundred pounds, was agreed to. The last question was one (the motion of Lawrence of Ohio) to strike out the 32d section organizing the Bureau of Statistics, and it was agreed to. All the amendments having been thus disposed of, the bill was open for further action
Washburne, of Illinois, moved that the bill be committed to the committee of Ways and Means with instructions to report at the next session, with such modifications and changes as the committee may deem proper to make
Wilson, of Iowa, moved as an amendment, that it be recommitted with instructions to report a bill embracing the first section of the pending bill the sixth and twelfth sections as originally reported including the amendments reducing the duty on tea and coffee the paragraph in relation to linseed, flax hemp and rape seeds and oils manufactured or from, as provided in the bill, and reducing the duty on railroad iron to fifty cents per one hundred pounds, all other parts of the bill from which those other than such as are actually necessary and not exceeding 25 per cent above the rates now fixed by the law
Washburne of Illinois moved to lay the bill on the table which was negatived
Hubbard moved to reconsider the vote, agreeing to the amendment restoring the discrimination in favor of coal from the British provinces
Latham, of West Virginia, moved to lay the motion to reconsider on the table agreed to, 73 to 71, so the duty on all coal imported remains fixed at $1 50 per ton
Eldridge of Wisconsin, again moved to lay the bill on the table negatived, noes 84, ayes 72
Wilson's amendment to the motion to recommit was negatived
The question recurred on Washburne's motion to recommit, which was negatived 82 to 87 The bill was then passed by a vote of 94 yeas to 53 nays The ayes include Ashley of Nevada Bigby of California Henderson, of Oregon, McIlvar, of California Holbolt not voting

SPECIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

PUBLISHED MORNING JULY 12, 1866.

Indian Affairs and the Military

Generals Hallock and Steele have just completed a tour through Idaho and a portion of Eastern Oregon visiting the various posts established annually for the protection of the settlements and mining camps. How much of the country they have been enabled to see of what convinced us they have seen as to the needs of that country for military protection, we have no information. We would not wish those veteran generals any harm, or unnecessary inquietude, but for the sake of the long suffering people of Eastern Oregon and Idaho, we could wish that they had not completed their tour without experiencing, personally something of the insecurity which has been for years an everyday companion of every traveler, miner trader and farmer of that country. Every man when he goes out to see for himself is very apt to make up his judgment from what he sees. While Generals Hallock and Steele have been out there has been an almost singular exemption from Indian depredations. Indeed, it has been a matter of remark by the newspapers of Idaho and the correspondents of papers here, that for some reason unknown, the Indians have been for a few weeks remarkably and mysteriously quiet and secret. It may be, and we fear its probability, that these officers will make up their minds from this fact rather than from the past history of Indian hostilities, that the danger from Indians has been overstated, and that, in consequence, they will form incorrect estimates as to the necessities for protecting forces east of the Cascade mountains.

The facts are, that though long intervals of peace may have occurred, there has never been a day when it was entirely safe to travel or reside beyond the limits of the larger settlements. The frequent murders, burnings and robberies, scattered as they are through all the months in the year sufficiently attest this statement. A season of quiet has been only the precursor of a tragedy, or some other villainy perpetrated by redskins, incapable of good faith and knowing no law but that of fear or savage hate. The Indian Department has been unable to secure safety by treaty. The military have never yet done more than to protect small areas of country immediately surrounding the posts or to remove the Indian bases of operations from one section to another. The country at large has never been protected in any sense of the word. There never have been soldiers enough there to do it by the systems of campaigning hitherto followed. There is a necessity for more posts, more soldiers and less garrison duty. The Indians have got to be severely punished and driven to the necessity of choosing between good behavior or utter extermination. It is idle to talk of governing the Indian by any means other than those which appeal to his fears. He has no moral nature, and bows to no restraints whose do not minister to his cupidity or make him afraid. Force alone can make him a "good Indian."

In eastern Oregon and Idaho there are thousands of them, and among them all, probably not a dozen who would hesitate to murder an unprotected white man for a shirt or tobacco box, providing the danger of detection and punishment were not too great. They meet with many opportunities for the practice of villainy, and in most cases the dead follows close upon the opportunity. This state of facts accounts for the tardy development of the country. There are now districts, for several years known to be rich in gold, which are unworked and must continue so until men can go there and develop them without the necessity of exposing their lives during every hour of the day and night.

A murder or robbery or stampede of stock every few days, may be a small matter to those who are out of danger, but they are matters of serious import to those among whom they occur; for no man knows but his turn may come next. Appeals for protection have gone up from individuals, from public meetings, from the newspapers and from everybody, but very little head has been given them. The people up there think and we think with them, that, while there is a possibility of doing something to relieve them from this Indian incubus, it borders hard upon the criminal, not to do it.

Conservative Decency.

The editor of the Herald, who modestly claims to be "a man of some character" he doesn't undertake to tell how much or how little, for the reason, doubtless, that more words can convey no definite idea of that infinitesimal quantity which is expressed in a continually descending geometrical series) is irate because of the "radical vulgarity" which he sees in the following remark copied by us a day or two since from the San Francisco Bulletin:

> The Portland Herald "officially" announces that the irrepressible Berlah Brown has become its leading editor. It will take him less than six months to kill the concern. Rotting added his virulent Copperheadism, his interminable editorials are certain death to any paper.
> As an antidote to this revolting dish of "radical vulgarity," we beg to present for the delicate and offended palate of the refined "character" who conducts the Herald, the following choice and sweet morsels culled at random from his own editorials during the last few days.
>
> The Democracy are not now in love with William H. Seward, and we trust in God that no portion of the party will ever exercise the least affection for the man whose hands are stained with the blood of so many thousand of his countrymen.
>
> Congress is colder the head of a few puritanical individuals frothing at the mouth in the last stages of negrophobia.
>
> If President Johnson goes over to Congress, he will do it prove the opinion to advance, that he will have to take but one step more to land himself in the lower region where Elder Mattis said cooling drinks were in great demand.
>
> Congress [illegible] voted the passage of that hellish Civil Rights Bill.
> As sure as there is a God in Heaven, these diabolical hellhounds will, sooner or later, receive their just deserts.

This is a sufficient comparison for the present of conservative decency with "radical vulgarity." Expressions so debonair, so refined, as those we have quoted, surely must emanate from "a man of some character." We see it exactly.

On the 31st of June, 1866, the gross amount of the national debt was $2,799,879,440. The amount of cash in the Treasury at the same date was $128,601 083 of which $56,879,847 was in gold, and the balance in currency. The net amount of debt on the 1st of June was therefore $2,670,288,356—a decrease since April 1st of $35,458,750. This reduction let it be remembered, is made at a time when the expenses of the Government are still very large, and before the country has had time to recover from the extraordinary losses of the war. It is raised by cheerfully borne taxation and indicates what the country can do when its energies shall have been fully recuperated and the period of its greatest prosperity began.

CIVIL RIGHTS.—A few days since, a darkey walked into an attorney's office in this city in search of his "civil rights." Said he, "See here, can dey make me pay taxes, under dis yer sibbil rights bill? The darkey evidently thought one of his 'civil rights' was exemption from taxes. This is pretty near as good as the Democratic interpretation that it compels them to let the "nigger" marry their sisters.

SENATOR DOOLITTLE AT HOME.—The Racine (Wis.) Advocate says Doolittle & Co. could not find enough Union men in Racine who endorse 'my policy' to officer a ward caucus. It thinks a Moses Doolittle-Johnson convention will not soon be attempted in that city, and says "Old Buchanan is more popular in Lancaster to day, than Senator Doolittle is in Racine."

The Portland Herald "officially" announces that the irrepressible Berlah Brown has become its leading editor. It will take him less than six months to kill the concern. Rotting added his virulent Copperheadism, his interminable editorials are certain death to any paper.

As an antidote to this revolting dish of "radical vulgarity," we beg to present for the delicate and offended palate of the refined "character" who conducts the Herald, the following choice and sweet morsels culled at random from his own editorials during the last few days.

The Democracy are not now in love with William H. Seward, and we trust in God that no portion of the party will ever exercise the least affection for the man whose hands are stained with the blood of so many thousand of his countrymen.

Congress is colder the head of a few puritanical individuals frothing at the mouth in the last stages of negrophobia.

If President Johnson goes over to Congress, he will do it prove the opinion to advance, that he will have to take but one step more to land himself in the lower region where Elder Mattis said cooling drinks were in great demand.

Congress [illegible] voted the passage of that hellish Civil Rights Bill.

As sure as there is a God in Heaven, these diabolical hellhounds will, sooner or later, receive their just deserts.

This is a sufficient comparison for the present of conservative decency with "radical vulgarity." Expressions so debonair, so refined, as those we have quoted, surely must emanate from "a man of some character." We see it exactly.

Overland Mail

The people of Oregon are indebted in a great degree to the California Stage Company for the establishment and continuance until the present time, of the daily mail line between this city and Sacramento. When the route was first established, the company took the contract for four years at a low figure which as the currency depreciated no doubt involved them in considerable losses. The contract was faithfully executed, however and when it expired the mail carriage for the next four years was submitted to public competition. The California Stage Company were the only bidders and their proposal being deemed exorbitant by the Department, their bid was taken for one year only and future bids asked for. After that we had Rounds, grant to contract but slow to perform. We all know how he sent out his agent who was to carry the mail in mule carts and we also know that, much to our advantage he never undertook the job. For a month or more thereafter, the California Stage Company continued to carry the mail. Finally some six enterprising men who did not wish to see this great convenience withdrawn, took the mail in charge and since last October it has been run by them with a regularity and promptness which are very commendable when we consider the state of the weather and roads ever since that time. The men employed by the old company were retained and their experience was of great value in securing the quick transmission of the mails.

The contract being again submitted to competition, it was awarded to H. W. Corbett Esq., of this city, a gentleman of energy, public spirit and liberal means. Always ready to take the lead in public matters, he was willing to invest his money in the enterprise of furnishing Oregon with a daily mail. His principal competitor for the contract was the old company. By the first of July he had made arrangements so complete and satisfactory as to enable him to come through on his own line in twenty four hours less than schedule time, he having been only six days from Sacramento Portland. Under his judicious management we feel assured of having a prompt and efficient service. He starts in with confidence, and makes a very considerable reduction in the rates of fare for passengers over the route. The young tried and efficient employees of the old company are retained in his service, and he goes into the business with an earnestness that foretokens success. The people of Oregon should assist him with their patronage as far as they can. Our merchants here should take at least one trip a year overland, and learn the character of the country, become acquainted with its wants and witness the progress of its improvements. The present contractor being the only person among us who was ready to embark in this great undertaking, he should be sustained. Let the people of the State give their support to an Oregon enterprise.

The California Stage Company, during the whole time they had the management of the route, did their work well, and were courteous and obliging. They toiled hard, and, considering the magnitude of the difficulties that the route presents during much more than half the year, rarely failed in getting the mails through in schedule time. As to the present contractor, all who know him need not to be assured that he will do all that energy and liberality can accomplish to furnish our people promptly and regularly with their mails during the next four years.

THE CAMPAIGN IN IDAHO.—The Statesman of July 5th says.

Mr. Kilpatrick starts this morning for Idaho City, where he will speak to-morrow night, and during the week in different parts of Boise County, from whence, in company with Major Atvord and others, he will visit the Northern counties, and returning, close the campaign this side the mountains. It is now time for every Union man in Idaho Territory to be at his post doing duty. Every man and every vote will be needed, and they must come forward to the work. We have a candidate around whom the representatives of every important interest in the Territory can rally without fear of being traded off for personal advantage or private gain. The Democracy are already demoralized, and we might almost say defeated. They are defeated if every man fills well his place. The Democratic party is demoralized in view of its infamous record in connection with the rebellion. It is demoralized in view of its recent acts of ruinous legislation in this Territory. It is demoralized in view of its outrages upon the public Treasuries of the Territory and of the counties. It is demoralized in view of the fact that the wisdom of Congress and the Administration have knocked every plank out of its platform, except secession, which, in reality, is the only one there was in it, and it is demoralized in view of the fact that the candidates of the Union party recommend themselves to the suffrages of the people for their honesty, ability and known integrity, and their fitness for the positions for which they are nominated.

THE FRENCH EVACUATION OF MEXICO.—A special Washington dispatch of June 11th gives the following important statement.

Information from Mexico, received by the French Legation here, states that Gen Bazaine, the French commander, has received positive orders from the Emperor Napoleon to concentrate the French troops at Mexico, Puebla and Orizaba, and make no more hostile demonstrations. Now only five per cent. of the troops will go to France in October, and the remainder next year. Maximilian is also reported to be out of money and to have made a raid, under the sanction of Gen. Bazaine, upon the chest of the French Paymaster General. There are also intimations that Louis Napoleon desires to cultivate the most friendly relations with the United States. Viewing the recent manifestations of the French Emperor's good feeling toward the United States, there is much reason to accept the above statement as correct. And if it be true that Bazaine has received such instructions, the fate of the Maximilian government in Mexico will soon be decided. It remains now to be seen whether any considerable portion of the Mexican people have been won over to the monarchical party. The Austrian and Belgian troops are less numerous and efficient than the French, and it is questionable whether they will be able to sustain the Empire when the French have withdrawn, unless it shall turn out as the supporters of Maximilian claim, that the Mexican people themselves may be depended upon to support the Imperial cause.

DASTARDLY MURDER IN KANSAS.—Robert Clark of Greenwood county, Kansas was murdered a short time since, by three brutes who are supposed to have been Missouri bushwhackers. The murderers, who were on horseback rode up to Clark's house about the middle of the afternoon and inquired of Clark the way to a neighbor's. Clarke, who was nursing a child, went to the door to give the desired information, and as he raised his right arm to indicate the direction he was shot through the heart by one of the ruffians. Death ensued immediately. Clark was one of the most respectable citizens of Greenwood county, had served as Treasurer of the county and had been a soldier in the Twelfth Kansas regiment. He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely death. His murderer is supposed to be "Wash" Petty, who was once a neighbor of his in Greenwood county, and between whom there had been some difficulty relative to a claim. Petty has been absent from Greenwood since the year 1861 and has served in the rebel army and bushwhacked in Missouri. The murderer is supposed to be this Petty, and his accomplices are believed to be some old bushwhacking comrades.

We do not look to Texas any more than to Alabama for political wisdom among its Legislators. Just imagine a law giver asserting (whether with quid in cheek and bowie knife in hand, we are not informed) that "the school system of New England is a magnificent failure!" And that too, with George W. Kendall, the most enterprising citizen, the ablest writer, and most successful journalist of Texas—a graduate of a common school in Vermont!—Frank Leslie's Illustrated.

Out of the 220,000,000 of single passengers in the year 1861 on the English railways there were only fifteen deaths of passengers. There were 263 railway servants killed while in the performance of their duties, and between 79 and 80 injured.

Rhode Island does up its yearly legislating in the shortest possible time. In four days the legislature inaugurated a new Governor, passed acts and resolutions, and adjourned.

BOTANICAL EXPEDITION.—We learn that Prof. Wood, father of our principal text book on Botany arrived in this city on Saturday evening. He has spent six months in exploring the flora of California and has ascertained that along the overland route to this place he collected all to his headquarters for several weeks (though he will be absent in various directions, to make all possible discoveries. Prof. Wood has personally explored the plants and flora of New England, the Middle, Western, and Southern States. His exploration of the Pacific States will give a truly national character to his enterprise. It is done at his own expense, and in view of its importance the steamboat, railroads, and stage lines of California have given him free passes over their routes. We suppose a few of the first impressions of our State, given in his own words, and we bespeak for him the cordial welcome which our people know how to give friends from abroad. We learn that some gentlemen have invited him to accept of their hospitality on the Western. Botanists who have been collecting plants and flowers this season in charge of Prof. W.'s work, are invited to report progress, and thus give as full a collection as possible from Oregon.

[By Prof. Wood, Botanist.]

FIRST IMPRESSIONS OF OREGON.—Coming into this State by way of the Overland Mail Route, I was anxious to observe the exact station of the State boundary line, as travelers usually are, and requested the driver to point it out, which he kindly did—showing it to be a little this side of the road summit of the Siskiyou Mountains. I noticed a sudden improvement in the vegetation; genuine pastures, larger forest trees, clearer and nobler waters, &c., all of which is true as to the northern and the south side of those mountains. The Balsam Poplar (Populus balsamifera) there appears native, large and luxuriant, often cultivated below. And it is interesting to the naturalist to mark from these the gradual increase of the forest in territory, the gradual multiplication of perennial herbs, and the perceptible spreading of the turf grasses. These however, are very scanty, until we reach Willow in the Umpqua valley, where we begin to rejoice with pleasure many green patches of native timber. The Deciduous Spondias (A. Eugene the true vegetable inside the pasture). The great forest timber of the west portion of abounding on this route is the Douglass Spruce (Abies Douglassii), named in honor of the pioneer and intrepid botanist, DOUGLAS.) It is a tree peculiar to this coast, easily known by the 3-forked bracts of its cone. Around Salem stand also many large Yew trees (Taxus.) As I ascended in the stage I readily admired the grand beauty of the valley of Rogue River. As a landscape, viewed from the south, including those wonderful tables on its northern limits, and its blue mountain ranges beyond. I have never seen its equal, except perhaps that marvelous view at Cucamunga, Cal., where the Tamescal Hills, bounds the east scope of the San Bernardino Plains. The Umpqua is a fine river of coal and oyster beds, and its interval bottom some splendid portions of land, especially in the vicinity of the junction of the North and South Umpqua. Those lands merit the name of the "Garden Valley." The Willamette country (if will not call it a valley,) surprises me, both as to its fertility and its extent. It can scarcely be less in territory than the prairie country of Indiana. Is is capable of supplying with its harvests all the inhabitants of this coast three fold. From the dry, stony beds of its rivers will grow apples and pears in the greatest perfection, as any one may see proved at Salem. What can estimate the improvements the next ten years will witness in the noble domain, in its cities, farms, homes, and people, and in all that pertains to civilization! Concerning the progress of society along this great route, the institutions of learning and religion, the manners and morals, I have much to say but must defer to a further occasion.

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the City Council was held last evening at the usual hour, Mayor Salling presiding.

The following members were present: Messrs. Bennett, Capt. Matlock, Lownsdale, McCraken, O'Conner and Schofield.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Charles Burchard was granted the use of a portion of First, at the corner of Stark, in building for the space of thirty days.

A notice which appears elsewhere in this paper, in relation to the improvement of Harrot, was ordered published.

The annual report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was read and ordered on file. We gleaned from the reading, that the property of the Department was generally in pretty good condition, and that the total losses by fire in the city for the year ending June 30th, 1866, amounted to but $6,915.

An abstract report of the City Treasurer, for the quarter ending June 30th, was also read and ordered on file.

A bill presented by the Street Commissioner, in favor of A. Stephens, for $2 60, on account of burying a dead cow belonging to a private citizen, was unanimously returned to the Commissioner without recommendation.

A bill presented by Capt. Paine was referred, also, a bill presented by Jas. Tucker was referred.

Warrants were authorized in favor of John McNamie for $165; J. H. Perry & Co., and Isaiah A Tilton, for $3,168 60, on account of street improvements.

A petition of Geo. Bufflar, in regard to sidewalk at the Globe hotel, was referred.

City Attorney Upton, was authorized to proceed as he deemed nec. sary, in the trial of cases for violation of the liquor license Ordinance.

On motion the Council proceeded to an election of Street Commissioner, when on the 12th ballot, there being no choice, voting was suspended, and the Board proceeded to elect an Auditor and Clerk, which resulted on the second ballot as follows:

H. H. Meeker 1
G. W. Murray 1
Mr. Jacoby 1
Whereupon Mr. Meeker was declared duly elected.

On motion the Council proceeded with the ballot for Street Commissioner, and after the 15th ballot, there still being no choice—the vote being:

Wm. McMillen 3
S. Sigmund 2
J. Rhett 1

On motion the Board adjourned.

BOOT KINGS.—The "knack" of man, if it can be so properly classed, is varied on this wonderful coast. There are now in this city several men from the mines, who are about to take their departure for the East. One of these has been on the coast but fifteen months, and he takes with him about $20,000, and a relative who has spent thirteen years on the coast and is not the possessor of $1k. We had a conversation with the gentlemen, and having known both of them previously, can vouch that their statements are correct. The "lucky" party left New York in February 1865, and after landing at San Francisco and hearing the flattering accounts from Oregon he came on here and worked his passage to the John Day regions. He had never been in a mining camp, and knew nothing of the process of obtaining the gold, but he had fascinated to him by an economical and widowed sister, one of the most "refined" methods for securing it, when, lo and behold, that has ever been put to a practical test. By simply paying strict attention to business, and disconcerning the "places of amusement" in the found in the mines, he has been rewarded in the short space of one year with a snug competency. On the other hand, the "unlucky" one has been a miner since 1852, since which time he was part owner in a rich placer claim in California. But he took the Washoe fever, and left his diggings for a better strike, and continued to roll about like a stone in an avalanche, until he brought up at Idaho City in 1864. Here by dint of perseverance and hard work he managed to accumulate about $1,000, which was invested in liquors, cigars, etc., with which stock he expected to get a good living without so much hard work, but in this he failed, and hearing of his friend at John Day he set out to find him, and on his charity is now going back to the "old folks at home." Our chief object in making note of these circumstances is to show that there are good opportunities enough in the country for energetic, straightforward men, with or without capital, if they have energy to take advantage of the moment, and be contented with hard work.

DWELLING HOUSES.—The appearance of the majority of dwellings being built in our city is a token of prosperity. They are generally small, but look as though they might all be paid for, and hence will hold more real happiness than large "palatial residences" unpaid for. Small houses are decidedly preferable for many reasons: they imply more sociability than big houses. Stately portico and lordly halls have not that sympathizing air which characterizes the neat, small, cosy rooms of the cottage; yet, to a man who can afford them, large houses are well enough, and presuming that we have in our midst people who can appreciate such and not over-estimate their own importance, by an imposing, distant, and repellent bearing, we are glad to see the number increasing in a fair proportion from year to year. The poorer class of "houses to let" are becoming vacated rather rapidly, the tenants having arrived at a state of forehandedness as to enable them to worship under their own vine, and for these things rents are depreciating. The better class of "houses to let" are yet occupied to a great extent, and prices are about the same as for two years past.

STEAMER LEAVING TO-DAY.—The steamships Orpheus and Montana leave to-day at 3 o'clock P. M. for San Francisco. A large number of our citizens go by them, on a visit to California, among whom we notice the names of Gov. Woods, Dr. J. A. Chapman, Dr. A. M. Lawyer, Hon. J. H. Mitchell, Mr. C. P. Ferry, D. C. Ireland, and others. The Pathfinder leaves at 3 P. M. for Victoria. The bark Jane A. Falkinburg will also clear for Astoria and Honolulu to-day.

CONFIRMED.—The laying of the Nicolson pavement on First street, (up town), was completed at four o'clock P. M. yesterday. The two gangs of men worked very rapidly in competing for the championship, in getting through first, which was won by the lower gang with an advantage of about ten minutes. Two men, on the lower connection, laid seventy feet of blocks in two hours, and for the day put down 1,000 blocks.

TAX BURDEN NUISANCE.—The nuisance of runners for the rival steamships command that the system be abated. We think that if both lines would abolish this method of doing business they would reap as much benefit without the way they do now with it. The clients of the Recorder's Court yesterday was principally occupied in the trial of cases growing out of the runner nuisance.

ADDITION NEW DESK.—Mr. E. M. Barton, contractor, has commenced the construction of another fine building, 25 by 100 feet, three stories and basement in height, for Messrs. Messenger & Rosenblatt. The location is on the north-west corner of Front and Alder streets.

PERSONAL.—Mr. A. G. Richardson, the well known Superintendent of the late California Stage Company, leaves this city to-day overland for Marysville. We understand that Mr. Richardson has it in view to locate at San Francisco.

GEN. HALLECK.—Gen. Halleck and Staff, we understand, will leave this city to-day by steamer J. H. Couch for an inspection of Forts Stevens and Cape Disappointment, returning on Saturday in time to leave Monticello on Monday for a trip overland to Puget Sound.

Chicago takes precedence of Albany as the largest lumber market in the world. Over 800,000,000 feet were received last year.

THE FROZEN TRUTH.—The South, who worked the niggers, leaves us Northern Dimokrats to do feed the system, beat the best end of the bargain.—Petroleum V. Nasby.

[DESPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JULY 11.

Colfax Re-nominated—Issue of Bonds to Railroad Companies.

CHICAGO, July 11.—Schuyler Colfax, of Indiana, and Rufus P. Spaulding, of Ohio, were yesterday nominated for re-election to Congress.

The fourth section of 20 miles of the Pacific Railroad, Kansas division, having been completed, the Secretary of the Interior has issued the bonds of $48,000 in bonds to the company. Bonds have also been ordered to be issued to the Central Pacific Railroad Company of California for one quarter of the work on a section of twenty miles having been completed.

Paymasters Dealt With—Johnson Clubs Consolidated.

Paymaster E E Paulding, of Washington, has been cashiered and sent to Fort McHenry for a term of imprisonment for malfeasance connected with the Mercantile National Bank affair. Paymasters Dodge, Ely and Lambert have been dismissed for having transferred their deposits so as to help Paulding assist the bank. Col. J. L. Hodge has been assigned as Chief Paymaster of Washington, vice Paulding cashiered.

The two Johnson clubs at Washington presided over by Blair and Randall, respectively, have been consolidated.

The Cuban Revolution Pronounced a Canard.

NEW YORK, July 11.—The Times' Baltimore special dispatch says a Baltimore house of the highest respectability is stated to have received by the steamer Cuba a send official communication denying the news of an insurrection at Puerto Principe, and treating the whole of talk as being substantially a canard. The news of the opening of the blacks, as well as the arrival of a Chilean fleet with 2,000 men is also pronounced to be false by the same party who in writing about it, attributed the rumor of an insurrection to the gathering of a few hundred Cubans upon one of the squares of Puerto Principe for the purpose of protesting against the present Cabinet assuming Buchanan-ian feeling with the revolutionists of Spain, headed by General Prim and other democrats of that stamp.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—President Juarez, writing from El Paso under date of June 8th to General Sedano informs him that on the 10th of June the Government would start for the city of Chihuahua again.

All French or traitor forces were in the State of Chihuahua, or nearer than the city of Durango, and as the Rebel Power is rolling rapidly toward the City of Mexico, there is no danger of a return of the Imperialists.

In pursuance of a call by the Mayor, a number of citizens met in the Board of Supervisors' chamber this morning for the purpose of taking into consideration the best means of alleviating the sufferings of the people of Portland, caused by the recent terrible conflagration. After considerable discussion a committee, consisting of Rev. Horatio Stebbins, J. B. Starr and A. Bellington, was appointed to telegraph East for information on which to base further action if any were needed.

James Chatchins, a Frenchman who was arrested on Monday for vagrancy, was to-day examined by Drs Hartman and Henry, by direction of Judge Dix, and being pronounced insane was sent to the Stockton asylum.

Judge Pratt to-day rendered judgment for the plaintiffs in the suit of John Reynolds vs. Wm. McElroy et al, and A. W. Stein et al vs. John Dore Davis et al.

Judge Hoffman to-day ordered a decree of confirmation to be entered in the case of one copper still, seized by the U. S. Revenue officers for violation of the law.

The Imperial Silver Mining Co. have to-day declared a dividend of $6 per share on their capital stock.

A little daughter of David Davies was accidentally run over by a truck on Davis street this morning, by which one of her legs was broken.

Commodore Rodgers starts to-day for the East by the overland route.

Isaac and Abraham Froomberg have filed their petitions for insolvency. Their application shows that they have been engaged in selling goods at retail, and purchased their stock of Samuel Froomberg for $12,000, payable in three, six and twelve months, with $100 per month interest until the whole was paid. In consequence of their inability to meet the demands of creditors their goods were attached and sold under execution, by which a loss of $3,000 was sustained to each. Their debts amount to $6,183 38 each; assets nominal.

The application for a mandamus against the Board of Supervisors, to compel them to accept the Nicolson pavement, brought in the 4th District Court, will be heard by Judge Pratt this evening. Judge Sawyer having declined to act upon the said matter, owing to a supposed interest therein, in consequence of the Nicolson pavement having been laid down in front of his property on Bush street.

The Superintendent of Lone Mountain Cemetery reported to the Coroner the discovery, this morning, of the body of an unknown man suspended to the limb of a tree in the Cemetery grounds, suppose to have committed suicide.

Tallow—Market dull. Holders are asking 7@8c for choice lots, but buyers do not want to buy at over 6c.

Mutton—Nominal.

Mining Stocks—Legal Tenders—Gold in New York.

The mining stock market shows but little signs of improvement from the morning board yesterday.

Overman advanced $12, and Ophir $2.50. On the other hand, Yellow Jacket declined $16, Belcher $10, Bullion and Chollar Potosi each $5, and Imperial $1

Legal tenders to the extent of $1,500 were sold at 71½@71¾c.

The telegraph yesterday and to-day worked remarkably well, dispatches being received here at an earlier hour than that at which they were dated in New York, owing to the difference in time in favor of this city.

Dispatches dated yesterday but received this morning, quote gold at 150, and today's dispatches give the same figures.

American securities are in good demand at New York this morning, in consequence, probably, of the European news.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS.

We obtain the following from our files of California papers to the 6th:

The price of passage by the opposition steamship America, which sails July 14th, is as follows: First cabin, outside rooms aft, $140; first cabin, outside rooms forward, $110; second cabin, $75.

The San Mateo Gazette says that on Tuesday last, two of the rails of the San Jose railroad track, near the crossing opposite C. N. Fox's residence in that town, was discovered to be sprung some seven inches out of place. The railroad men were notified of the fact, and it was replaced in season for the next train. The rails it appears were sprung by the expansion caused by the intense heat of the sun on that day. The spikes were torn out as if they had been cambric needles, at all of the ties from each end of the rail. Each rail had to be cut off before it could be replaced.

The Marysville Appeal of June 28th, has the following: Yesterday our fellow-townsman, C. B Fowler, Agent of the Oregon Stage Company, and D. E. Arnold, County Clerk, made a visit to Lincoln to view the Yuba railroad. They find that the company have ten miles of the road completed, which brings the terminus at Bear river, and in perfect running order from Lincoln to that point. Yesterday, the first passenger car was run over it, which conveyed them from Bear river to Lincoln. Fowler went to make arrangements to connect the cars with the Oregon Stage Company's coaches, which will be consummated, and they will connect at Bear river on the first of July, bringing Marysville two and a half hours nearer Sacramento than at present—that is, we will get our mail and express matter here at 10 o'clock A. M., instead of the present time. Arnold examined the road on the part of the county of Yuba, who donate to the railroad company the bonds of the county, in conformity with a law passed at the last session of the Legislature, and he finds ten miles of the road completed, which entitles the company to $50,000 in bonds of the county. The Superintendent, C. L. Wilson, intends to have the iron horse on the opposite bank of the Yuba by the middle of September.

The Canadian people have learned by this time that horses, like chickens, come home to roost. They winked at organized attempts of rebels to invade our frontier, murder unarmed men and rob banks, but when an armed force lands on their shores and seeks battle with soldiers, they profess great horror at the breach of neutrality. One of these grumblers, the Toronto Globe, says, in all the majesty of double-lead:

"We confess our utter astonishment at the placid manner in which the American Government continues to look on while our province is being invaded, openly, defiantly of their authority, by American citizens from American soil. The pretext that no overt act has been committed to justify interference can no longer avail; and the American Government will stand convinced before the world of countenancing this wanton attack of their own citizens on a friendly and peaceful people, with whom not a shadow of quarrel exists.

In the pursuit of fortune at the mines, many persons are exposed to the attacks of complaints of the digestive organs, and of various kinds of fever. It is the very article that has so long been in demand at the mines. Its daily use will restore the tone of a deranged stomach, impart fresh vitality to the digestive functions, and cheer the spirits. Yet the Bitters is the safest of all stimulants. They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, winter green, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.
Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene, and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending, to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or 1. Bulk, is an imposter. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties re-filling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

Bankers' and Brokers' Licenses.

OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE, }
May 4th, 1866 }

SIR — It appears to me clear, under the Statutes of Internal Revenue, and the recent decisions of the Supreme Court in the "Brokers' and Bankers Cases" that Bankers who negotiate sales, not only of stocks belonging to themselves, but also of stocks belonging to others, are denominable "Bankers doing business as Brokers," and are liable respectively to pay the prescribed duties upon all such sales.

In the case of The United States v. Catling, et al, the question was, whether sales, by Brokers, of their own stocks, exchange, bullion, coined money, bank notes, promissory notes, and other securities, as well as sales, by them, of stocks and other property belonging to others, were subject to duty? In expounding the Statutes, the Supreme Court regarded the amendment made by the Act of March 3d, 1865, to paragraph 9 of the 79th section of the Act of June 30, 1864, which defines, for the purposes of the law, the term "Broker" as, in effect, an amendment of the 99th section of the Act of 1864, which prescribes the duties leviable upon the sales, by Brokers, of stocks and other securities. It was, therefore, held in that case that sales made by Brokers for themselves were subject to the same duty as those made for others.

In the case of United States v. Fisk, et al, the question presented for determination was, whether Bankers, "doing a general business as such," who sold Government securities for themselves, and not for others, or for a commission, were subject to pay upon such sales, the duty prescribed by the 99th section of the Statute of 1864? The Supreme Court held that they were not so liable. The decision proceeded, it would appear, upon the ground that the defendants were not "Bankers doing business as Brokers," within the meaning of the Statute.

"The purpose and intent of the Legislature, in the amendment made to the 9th paragraph of section 79," said Mr. Justice Grier, in delivering the opinion of the Court, "was evidently not to change the correct definition of the term Broker, and to make it mean that every man who sold his own securities was a Broker, and liable to pay fifty dollars for a license. The obvious purpose of the amendment was to compel Brokers to render an account of all sales made, whether for themselves or others, and to pay duty on them. As is often the case in Statutes, though the intention is clear, the words used to express it may be ill-chosen. The evil intended to be remedied by the amendment was transparent. If the amendment had been properly expressed, it should have been added as a proviso to the 99th section, which relates to the rates of duty to be paid on sales made in the stock market by Brokers, or others, licensed and doing business as such."

It seems to me a corollary from the propositions affirmed by the Supreme Court, in these adjudications, that a person doing a general business as a Banker, who, at the same time, prosecutes the business of selling stocks and other securities for others, as well as for himself, is liable to pay tax upon all his sales. So long as his sales are limited to his own securities, his transactions do not become those of a Broker. But when, in addition to such sales, he negotiates sales of securities for others, he engages in the 'business of a Broker, and becomes a Banker doing business as a Broker.

Broker, and a Banker doing business as a Broker, stand on precisely the same footing in the Statute. Both are mentioned in the 99th section as subject to the payment of the same duties upon the sales of the kinds of property there enumerated.

The Supreme Court has settled, as we have seen, that Brokers are liable to pay duties on all their sales—those of their own property, as well as those of the property of others. Bankers, therefore, "doing business as Brokers" would seem to be subject to the same liability. They are chargeable, under the provisions of the 99th section of the Statute, with the payment of duties upon all their sales. The exemption of Bankers' sales of their own securities from duty is maintainable only; I think, where the Bankers do not prosecute or carry on business as Brokers—in the case of those who, in other words, do not engage in the business of negotiating purchases or sales of securities for the benefit of other parties.

But no exemption can be claimed by Bankers, who do engage in such business, in favor of sales which they may negotiate of their own securities. The Statute requires them, in my opinion, to make the same returns of sales as are made by Brokers, and subjects them to the liability of paying, like Brokers, duties upon all sales of stocks and securities by them negotiated, whether for the benefit of themselves or of others.

I remain yours, with the greatest respect,

J. HUBLEY ASHTON,
Acting Attorney General.

HON. HUGH MCCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

A WESTERN POLITICIAN.—The following capital anecdote of Arkansas political life is only an exaggeration of what may be observed in other Western States:

About twenty years ago Gov. [illegible] and Judge W [illegible] were candidates for Congress in this district. They were both far-sighted, shrewd politicians—the Governor, by far more winning in his manners, as the sequel will fully establish. One hot day in July, while they were traveling together on the canvass, they came upon a party of twenty men assembled on the roadside to have a shooting match. Thinking it a good time and place for presenting their respective claims the Governor proposed stopping. They halted, and the Governor soon made himself at home. He bought a number of chances in the match; and being a good marksman, succeeded, in winning quite a quantity of beef, which constituted the prize.

The Judge had conscientious scruples as to shooting matches, and did not participate, but stood by, conversing with the more sober of the crowd, while the Governor was in high glee over the beef. When it was given out to the successful shooters, our Governor ordered his share divided among some widows who lived in the vicinity, and then asked the boys if they were not dry? Of course they were, and the Governor ordered a plentiful supply of the "Oh, be joyful" Here the Judge had scruples and did not participate, but had it been otherwise it would have availed nothing. The Governor was decidedly the man at the shooting match; while the Judge felt himself entirely in the vocative. Leaving their friends they proceeded on their way some twelve or fifteen miles, and halted at a camp ground, where an annual camp meeting was being held. They separated in the crowd; each electioneering with all his might, with old and young, friends and strangers—making hay while the sun shone—for the opening was fine.

Toward night the Judge began to look around for his distinguished opponent, but could not find him anywhere. He waited patiently till evening services began, and concluded he would go out to a large shed where the people had assembled for meeting, thinking perhaps he might meet his friend. On going out, what was his astonishment to find the gallant Governor, the hero of the shooting match, in front of the altar, surrounded by ministers and class leaders, with a hymn book in his hand, head thrown back, singing as loud as his lungs would permit—

"Flow firm a foundation, ye saints of the Lord."

"From that moment," said the Judge, "I gave up all hopes. I tell you—I tell you, sir, a man that's good for a camp meeting and a shooting match, can't be beat for Congress! It can't be done, sir!" And so it proved.

PROGRESS OF THE NEW ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH CABLE.—Upward of nine hundred miles of the new Atlantic telegraph cable has been stowed on the Great Eastern. About sixty miles per day were stowed away, the work proceeding day and night.

It is found that the Great Eastern will not be able to take all the necessary cable, 2,700 miles, on board. The screw steamer Medway, consequently, has been chartered to take about 500 miles of the old cable from the Great Eastern.

Another steamer the Albany, is also engaged to assist the enterprise, and the British Government has again granted the services of the war steamer Terrible to accompany the expedition. Each of the three steamers is to be furnished with grappling apparatus, so that the old cable may be grappled at points a mile apart, to break the strain and give greater security. The Great Eastern will only partially coal at Sheerness, owing to her great draft of water. She is expected to quit the harbor June 28th, and start a day or two after for Beerhaven, Ireland, where she will complete coaling and proceed to lay the cable.

During the three weeks ending with Saturday, June 2d, the officially declared exports of gold from this port was rather over than under $23,000,000. During the last month, the premium on gold has pretty steadily appreciated, beginning at 28½ and ending at 11½.

These are grave facts. They are full of admonition. Had our currency been based on specie, such a drain upon us for coin would have diminished all current value from 10 to 25 per cent, causing very general embarrassment if not absolute stagnation. As it is, the result is a sudden derangement of values less obviously disastrous only because the loss is thrown on the creditor rather than the debtor interest, yet no less pernicious and demoralizing. We cannot safely down the general road to the wayside plodding in misery while the medium wherein values are computed and debts are liquidated is so unstable as to fluctuate to the extent of 10 per cent in a month.

We must get back to specie payment at a very early day, unless we are content to settle down into a nation of gamblers, wherein every business operation is in essence a compound of sweat cloth and thimblerig. But the indispensable condition precedent of specie payment is a reduction of our imports till they range very considerably below our exports.

If Congress would but enact that, on and after the 1st day of January next, all the treasury notes of the United States should be redeemed in coin at the Sub-Treasury in this city, the business of the country would instantly take notice and govern itself accordingly. Nominal prices would fall. We should stop importing breadstuffs. Orders for silks and trimmings would be countermanded. We should take in sail on every quarter, and soon be prepared to ride out any tempest. And, just so long as Congress refrains from decreeing resumption, we shall go on as we have gone—buying goods that we are unable to pay for, and contracting debts that will embarrass any future attempts to return to solvency. We shall never get ready to resume until we shall have firmly resolved to do so at a definite and not distant day.

Meantime, we pray Congress to make such changes in the tariff as will furnish some barrier against enormous, excessive importations. We are still buying abroad millions' worth per month of goods that we should make at home—must make here if we are ever to return to solvency. European labor is clothing us, when we ought to clothe ourselves. It is never cheap to buy abroad that which those unemployed at home would gladly make. If we were making $2,000,000 worth per week of the fabrics we now import, there would not be $1,000,000 per week subtracted from our present produce. No nation ever yet established a new branch of industry without invigorating and expanding old ones. It, for example, we could have had all our railroads made in Europe for half what they have actually cost us, we should have been poorer to-day than we are; and the principle applies to rails as well as to roads.

Give us a tariff that means something; and, in order to make it mean something, decree and provide for no early return to specie payment.—N. Y. Tribune.

GENERAL HOWARD'S POSITION.—The following is from the pen of the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial. Referring to the assault of General Fullerton upon General Howard, he says:

Such charges have been expected by General Howard, and he has been ready for it since the veto. No one of any bureau in any Department of the Government has more thoroughly sifted, the personal fitness of his subordinates, more thoroughly searched for delinquents and delinquencies or more frankly confessed all mortifying truths. No less or less manly a courage than his would have sufficed to meet and admit the maladministration of incompetent subordinates, exposed by bitterly prejudiced critics. He has never been party, even by tacit consent, to the management of others for themselves, to any administration of his office for the good of others than his proper wards under the law. No man outside of his immediate headquarters has had better opportunity than I to see, the unguarded working of the General's plans from the first, and because I know it to be true, I do not hesitate to declare that a more cruelly unjust assault has not been made upon any officer of the Government since the murdered than is this assault of General Fullerton upon his late superior. I take it that your readers are aware that General Fullerton was for some time on General Howard's staff; was sent to New Orleans to execute a most delicate and important trust which he shockingly mismanaged, and was allowed to quit the service in consequence. But they do not know, for there are but a half dozen outside the headquarters of the bureau who ever will know, how magnanimously General Howard endeavored to shield his aide. He assumed the responsibility of Fullerton's most odious and unwarranted acts, and all but exhausted his influence with the parties aggrieved, in his endeavor to spare his subordinate (whom he charitably judged more ignorant than wicked) from a just and scathing indignation.

ANDREW JOHNSON AND THE FENIANS.—With a vigor which a strong Government sometimes delights to make against a weak enemy, our Federal authorities have arrested Roberts, the Fenian President, and General Sweeny, its military leader. The term "enemy," is scarcely to be applied to these gentlemen in any other sense than a technical one. They are certainly enemies of the British rule over Ireland, and are for this reason challenged by the Administration as enemies of the United States. We suppose the Washington opinion must be accepted if its quixotic theories of our duties as neutrals are also to be accepted. Undoubtedly, if America be appointed guardian of British interests in Canada, we must make war on the Fenians and their leaders. If the main object at Washington is to conciliate the good will of that Britain which, during the rebellion, spurned every demand from us for fair dealing, our foreign office is pursuing a policy calculated for such a purpose. We do not suppose Roberts and Sweeny are any more enemies to day than they were a month ago, nor that the Government is now in possession of any information which had not, in substance, been communicated to it before a blow was struck. If the Fenians are guilty now, they were guilty then, and we are at a loss to know why the interposition of our Government should not have occurred before this enterprise culminated, and before that outbreak of hostilities which a word from President Johnson to those who compelled him might have prevented. There certainly was no Fenian leader so mad as to suppose that he could conquer Canada plus the United States, nor any leader who would have put his own reputation and the lives of his followers at risk, if he had not believed that this Government would confine its opposition within the rigorous limits of the law. That Roberts and Sweeny are under arrest to-day is only an evidence that they placed too much reliance on what they were led to suppose would be the policy of the Government.—N. Y. Tribune June 28.

GATHERING THEM IN.—The United States seem determined to possess all the anglo-rebel navy. The Georgia was captured at sea; the Florida was taken in the harbor of Bahia, and sunk near Newport News; the Sea King, or Shenandoah, was given up at Liverpool; the Stonter was also given up; the Chickamauga was raised at Wilmington; the Tallahassee has also been given up in England, and the Rappahannock will have to be disposed of in the same way. There may be a few more yet to be taken possession of, but already nearly all the vessels which had been in the rebel service during the war, and which had not been captured or destroyed at the cessation of hostilities, have been handed over to the United States Government. If the sympathizing Englishmen who supplied these vessels have been paid, it may be well; if they have not been paid, it is well also.

SINGULAR AND FATAL ACCIDENT.—While the Jolesburg operator, says the Mountain News of June 2d, was repairing the line between Jolesburg and Alkali, June 2d, he was informed by several persons that John Whitton, a driver in Alexander Benham's train, when some eight miles west of Alkali had reason to lift the telegraph line off the ground, when a flash of lightning struck the line, at that point, tearing it into small pieces, and instantly killing Whitton. The man who saw the accident state that they observed a ball of fire as large as a man's fist issue from Whitton's breast. He was buried on the spot where he was killed. The operator states that this was the most terrific storm of lightning he had ever seen.

OUTRAGES DESTROYED IN THE WAR.—A writer in the New Orleans Advocate, who has been making some inquiries into the destruction of churches, says that, so far as he has ascertained, between 1,000 and 1,200 churches were burned during the war. These churches, he thinks, had cost the people no less than $3,000,000. In the loss, the Methodists were the greatest sufferers; the Baptists next; then the Presbyterians, and the Catholics last.

Illinois is doing well in the cotton line. She raised 5,000,000 pounds last year, and the quality was so good that the article was a favorite in the market, and commanded the highest price. It is thought that the West will turn its attention to cotton culture, the difficulty of getting their cereals to the seaboard causing farmers to think of changing their crops. All must desire their success.

A Bull Run Affair for the "Queen's Own."

Amid all the ridicule which is heaped upon the Fenian cause, it is refreshing to find something which will pay off the British insults to the Union Army during the rebellion. Accounts of the Fenian battle at Limestone Bridge state that when the British commenced to retreat all of the Irishmen were thrown into confusion by Old Vulcan could not have kept the "Queen's Own" confused mass together. Every man took to his heels, and the "Bloody Shells" of Fenians take the landmark. Some took to the fields, some kept to the railroad track, while large numbers deemed the woods the path of safety, each face being turned for Port Colborne, the point whence they emerged, a proud and confident army but a few hours previous.

Large numbers reached the train, which was waiting at some distance in the direction of Port Colborne, while quite a number trod their weary way foot sore, hungry, thirsty and bowed down with shame, grief and woe. They continued to arrive at Port Colborne until three or four o'clock on Sunday morning, and several were picked up by the train on the same morning, while proceeding to Ridgeway loaded down with over one thousand men for a second attack, which was expected.

I need not describe to you the appearance of these men when they reached Port Colborne. In many instances their best friends failed to recognize them—hatless, coatless, shoeless, and, in many instances, almost sans culottes. Falstaff's historic army would be counted as Drummonds and Prince Georges, in comparison with them.

And this is a day's history of the "Queen's Own," made up of the pet children of Canadian aristocracy. I need hardly say to you that the paltry insufficiency—to use no harsher term of the Queen's Own, exotus the deepest mortification and sorrow among the Canadian people. They admit their total defeat by an inferior force, and in discipline—a mere mob. The blame for their discomfiture and disgrace is very generally placed upon the shoulders of Col. Booker, whom they charge with ignorance and cowardice. There is no doubt but that he will have to pass the ordeal of a Court Martial, with the strong presumption that he will be dismissed the service at least, if he meets with no severer punishment.

INDIAN OUTRAGE IN OWYHEE (I. T.).—O. R. Johnson writing from Ruby City (I. T.), June 12th, to S. W. Sclmaker, of Red Bluff, gives the annexed sad intelligence.

I am sorry to feel it my painful duty to let you know of a most horrible murder committed this morning upon the person of your brother in law, O. C. Gassett. He was murdered by the Indians, about one mile from my house. His person was horribly mangled. I went with a wagon and brought the body to my house, washed and dressed it, and had a coffin made and buried his remains very decently about two o'clock to-day. His nearest neighbor was about one hundred and fifty yards from his tent. He was living on a farm belonging to him and trying to get along, and I think was doing very well. As soon as I find out about the particulars of his affairs, I will write you again. The Indians stole nearly all the stock in camp, about one hundred head. They got three of ours, but I got two of them back; they have one yet and will have to keep it a while.

Those interested will be glad to know that parties in need of Executive pardon will in future have to apply for it personally, the President having issued orders that no more pardons will be granted, except to those who make special application to him. Heretofore it has been a common practice to secure pardon papers through the numerous "brokers" (male and female) who infest the capital, but the practice is at an end. The President considers that if a pardon is worth having at all it is worth applying for in person, and if not, why the heretofore rebellious individual will have to get along as best he can without it. The total number of pardons granted from May of last year to the present time is stated at over 12,000.

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS AT tended the introduction of the CONSTITUTION WATER, and the many notices of the press, have induced a considerable increase in the demand, and almost miraculous change will have to commence in the debilitated and shattered system. Indeed it stands unrivaled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the numerous affections, and diseases of

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIFFERENCE,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every unnecessary way connected with the disorder or decay of the URINATIVE FUNCTIONS. Persons about to marry, or considering any weakness, should take the

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS in the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
